Out of every dollar of national income taxes take 17.6 cents, while expenditures run at the rate of 24 per cent of the earnings of the people. Since 1930, the Chamber says, the Federal Government alone has spent $24.000,000,000,000 to do is to make up your mind alone has received.

There are only two ways in which the annual deficit in the national budget can be averted. One is to reduce Federal expenditures drastically. The other way is by increased taxation.

STAR ATTRACTION See the Hero Foil the Villain!

IF YOU reside in a thinly-settled suburban or rural neighborhood, and are one of the persons whose spines tingle with a thrill when the hero saves "Little Nell" from the clutches of the villain, you'll get a "kick" from learning about the "hero" Your hero's name is Repeater Fuse, a southern-born gentleman with three lives, employed by Alabama Power Company engineers and one of the many items of electrical equipment "made in Alabama." For the villain of our little melodrama we have Nature, transformed into a witch, who, in occasional whimsical mood, fleetingly flicks at some of the rural lines of Electra, the heroine, striving to put her handyman, Reddy Kilowatt, out of commission and annoy you (and us) with an unnecessary interruption to your dependable electric service. That's when your hero, Repeater Fuse, steps into the play to foil the villain, giving all three of his lives to do so, if necessary. Here's how Repeater Fuse plays The villain causes a momentary abnormal surge of power over the wires, along which Repeater Fuse is stationed as sentry. This surge is intercepted by one of the fingers you see in the picture holding one of your hero's lives, technically elements in the repeater fuse, so that it may again play its part when necessary.

Interruptions to your electric service are rare, because most electrical disturbances are only momentary, and repeater fuses and other ingenious equipment such as you've been reading about in these advertisements, handle them automatically and so swiftly that, except for a brief flicker of your lights, you do not

After all, you don't fertilize crops for the crops' sake. You fertilize them for INCREASED RETURN TO YOU. Check your harvest and see if potash had a chance to increase your 1938 income. Rusted cotton, low yields and poor quality of tobacco, corn, vegetable, fruit, and legume crops result if the soil and fertilizer do not supply enough potash.

It is not too early to be laying your plans for more income from potash next year. Talk over with your county agent or experiment station your yields this year as compared with what you can expect from your soil if given the right amount of the right fertilizer for the crops which you will plant next spring. Ask your dealer or manufacturer about fertilizers high in potash. You will be surprised how little extra it costs to apply enough potash.

Cognizant of tremendous losses in iman lives and of permanent inhomes, on farms and highways, and round industrial plants as well as n the basement workshop, officials of the American Red Cross have been directing a systematic fight against what they term "this economic waste." As part of this nation-wide effort to reduce deaths and permanent injuries from accidents, a recent statement from Red Cross headquarters in Washington reports that during the past 12 months certificates have been granted to 295,028 persons completing courses in the administration of Red Cross first aid. Holders of these certificates have followed detailed courses of study, and have been taught how to splint fractured limbs, stop flow of blood, treat poison sufferers, care for victims of heat, electric shock, and handle other common emergency situations. The courses emphasize methods of caring for patients until professional medical aid can b summoned to scenes of accidents. Since 1910, the report reveals ,725,406 persons have received th training from qualified Red Cros nstructors, and at the present tim 20,429 persons are qualified to give such instruction Bringing help nearer scenes of
